Course Objectives

Principles and Practice of Intraoperative Neuromonitoring is designed for advanced professionals who perform or support intraoperative neuromonitoring (IONM) procedures. This includes but is not limited to:

- Neurologists
- Surgical Neurophysiologists
- PM&R Physicians
- Neurological Surgeons
- Anesthesiologists
- Orthopedic Surgeons
- Board Certified Neurophysiologists
- Vascular Surgeons
- Senior Neurophysiology Technologists
- ENT Surgeons
- Cardiac Surgeons

The course will highlight practice specifications, multimodality protocols, recent advances in the field, pre-/post-operative neurological evaluation and management, and telemedicine. Presentations will make reference to current literature, technical developments, methodologies and clinical efficacy. The faculty includes University of Pittsburgh Medical Center physicians and neurophysiologists with extensive clinical and academic expertise in IONM. The course exposes participants to material that will allow them to acquire a comprehensive understanding of IONM and how it relates to:

- Advanced principles for neurophysiological monitoring, including instrumentation, neuromonitoring protocols, alarm criteria and clinical efficacy
- Minimally invasive spine surgery, including transposos approaches
- Pre-, peri- and post-operative evaluation of neurological complications including stroke, cognitive deficits, seizure and spinal cord injury
- Multimodality monitoring techniques for a broad array of procedures including spine and vascular
- Cranial nerve monitoring during skull base procedures
- Interpretation and communication with surgical team
- Development of a Policy & Procedure manual; documentation and communication with the technologist; development of quality assurance metrics; and staff training
- Problem based learning with real-time data analysis and formulation of differential diagnoses

Interactive Workshop Stations

- Instruction and the opportunity to practice placing cranial nerve EMG electrodes on a cadaver (including the extra-ocular muscles)
- Case study review session where participants will work through differential diagnoses
- Cerebrovascular anatomy and the role of IONM in Neurointerventional procedures
- Explore technical problems in IONM and how to develop algorithms for troubleshooting

Course Directors

Katherine Anetakis, MD

Sponsored by Procirca and University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine Center for Continuing Education in the Health Sciences

Tuition
$600 for physicians and other attendees seeking CME credits
$400 for all other healthcare professionals seeking CEU credits

Registration and Payment
Please register and pay directly from our website: https://procirca.com/neuromonitoring/neuromonitoring-workshop/
On-site registration will not be permitted.

CME Accreditation and Designation
In support of improving patient care, the University of Pittsburgh is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Physician (CME)
The University of Pittsburgh designates this live activity for a maximum of 21 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Other Healthcare Professionals:
Other health care professionals will receive a certificate of attendance confirming the number of contact hours commensurate with the extent of participation in this activity.

ASET – The Neurodiagnostic Society has granted 21.5 Continuing Education Units [ASET-CEUs] for this program. Such crediting, however, should not be construed by program participants as an endorsement of any type of instruments or supplies mentioned or involved in these presentations.

Special Needs
Participation by all individuals is encouraged. Advance notification of any special needs will help us provide better service. Please notify us of your needs at least two weeks in advance of the program by calling 412-647-3450.

Cancellation Policy
• Registration fee is 100% refundable up until October 6, 2021.
• Registration fee is 50% refundable up to 15 days prior to the start date of the course.
• If you cancel within 15 days of the start of the course, NO REFUNDS will be granted.

Cancellation requests should be sent to:
Josh Sunderlin, Course Coordinator
Procirca Center for Clinical Neurophysiology
